

FANGSGIVING

READ-A-THON

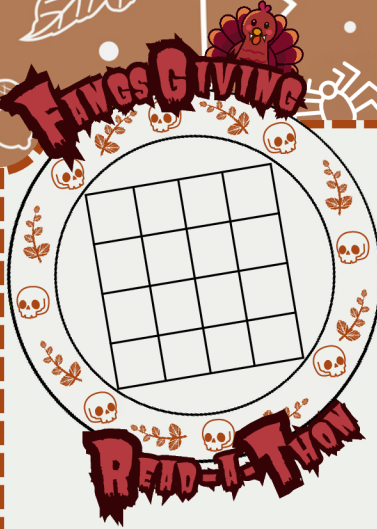

HOW TO FILL YOUR PLATE

When Halloween ends, it's just a short few weeks before... FangsGiving, the spookiest Thanksgiving you've ever had! The FangsGiving Read-a-Thon is where you get to fill your literary plate with all your favorite books, spooky, fantasy, sci-fi, romance, non-fiction, or whatever you'd like, because this is your FangsGiving plate! To fill your plate, pick 16 prompts from the list of prompts. Each prompt has a corresponding number. Write that number in a square on your FangsGiving Bingo Plate. When you read a book that fulfills that prompt, fill in that spot on your bingo board by coloring in the square! Once you get a bingo (four in a row) you've filled your FangsGiving Bingo Plate!

BONUS GAMES: GO BACK FOR SECONDS!

But wait! Maybe you're hungry for more! No judgment here, there are extra challenges for those who like an extra helping of literary delights. After competing a regular 4-in-a-row bingo, try to complete one (or more) of these challenges!

- FOUR CORNERS OF THE TABLE CHALLENGE: Go for all four corners on the FangsGiving Plate!
- X IN THE EYE OF THE TURKEY CHALLENGE: Make an X on the FangsGiving Plate by filling in both diagonal bingo options from corner to corner!
- FENCE IN THE TURKEY YARD CHALLENGE: Go for four bingos, all around the edges of the FangsGiving Plate!
- STUFFED FULL CHALLENGE: Fill in the entire FangsGiving Plate by completing all 16 of the prompts you've chosen!
- THE BOOK THAT INSPIRED IT ALL CHALLENGE: Read Fangs-giving by Dian Curtis Regan!

The logo is a circular emblem with a grid of 16 squares in the center. The words "FANGS GIVING" are written in a stylized, jagged font at the top, and "READ-A-THON" is at the bottom. The circle is decorated with small skull icons and leaf patterns.

FANGSGIVING PROMPTS

(1) THANKS AROUND THE TABLE

Read a book by an author you are thankful for (aka one of your favorite go-to's)!

(2) SINK YOUR TEETH IN:

Read a book about a vampire or a book that centers around food in some way.

(3) ORANGE YOU PRETTY:

Read a book with orange or brown on the cover.

(4) PUMPKIN PIE:

Pull out a Halloween season book you missed reading this year and read it!

(5) FALL FOOTBALL FRENZY:

Read a book that features a competition, sports, or a character who plays sports in some way. Bonus points if the sport is football.

(6) FAMILY TIES:

Read a book that centers around a family. They can get along... or not!

(7) UNCOMFY TABLE TALK:

Read a book that's challenging to you in some way: maybe it's political, religious, a genre you don't normally read, or includes a topic that will stretch you as a reader.

(8) TURKEY TIME:

Read a book featuring a bird on the cover.

(9) FALL LEAVES:

Read a book set during the Fall season.

(10) THAT ONE FAMILY MEMBER:

Read a book that is wild, bonkets, or unconventional in some way.

(11) TURKEY DAY PARADE:

Read a book that features a spooky, typical, or fun tradition or ritual.

(12) HOST GIFTS:

Read a book recommended by one of the hosts!

(13) EMPTY PLATES:

Read a ghost story or book set in an abandoned or isolated place.

(14) APPLE CIDER VINEGAR:

Read a thriller with bite – whether the bite is supernatural or poisonous is up to you!

(15) BRING A DISH TO PASS:

Finish a book you've been passing up on for other books (aka a book on your TBR that's been there a while)!

(16) HORN OF PLENTY:

Read a book where the characters are on a search of some kind.

(17) WISHBONE OF THE TURKEY:

Read a book where a character makes a wish or has a dream.

(18) CREAMED CORN:

Read a book set in the Midwest or has corn or popcorn on the cover.

(19) CARVING KNIFE:

Read a book centered around a serial killer.

(20) SQUIRRELED AWAY ACORNS:

Read a book with a winter theme.

(21) THE STOMACH GROWLS:

Read a book with a monster (human or otherwise!) or someone who "hungers" for something in life.

(22) WE JUST WANNA PLAY BUT THE ADULTS ARE STILL TALKING:

Read a book longer than 300 pages.

F.A.Q.'S!

Can I use the same book for more than one prompt?

Yes! This is your FangsGiving plate, fill it how you like!

What if I want to read non-spooky books? This seems like it's spooky...

Sure! Read whatever genre you like best! Most of the prompts can bend to other genres fairly easily.

What do I do once I get a bingo?

Post on one of the host channels' videos by shouting "BINGO!" in the comments!

When can I start reading?

FangsGiving begins on November 1st!

When does the Read-A-Thon end?

Fangsgiving goes all the way until the stroke of midnight on Thanksgiving night (technically early Friday morning, I know, I know, but... it's for fun!)

Are there prizes for bingo? I always get prizes when I play bingo!

When you receive a bingo, you can download the FangsGiving bingo graphic for your social medias! Look on the FangsGiving 2026! page linked in the Host Video descriptions!

Can I make a video or social media post about FangsGiving?

Of course! Feel free to post a video or photo with your FangsGiving TBR, vlog, or book stack! Look on the FangsGiving 2026! page (linked in the Host Video descriptions) for graphics you can use for FangsGiving!

Who runs FangsGiving?

FangsGiving is run by the Shaun Stevenson Books BookTube channel along with some of his BookTube friends! All the hosts are linked in the comments under the Host Video descriptions!

How do I find the Host book recommendations?

Check the Shaun Stevenson Books FangsGiving announcement video for links to all of the hosts! They will each have their own videos or posts about their FangsGiving book recommendations!

I don't celebrate Thanksgiving where I live. Can I still participate?

Of course! FangsGiving is for everyone! Join us... or the FangsGiving Turkey will find you...
